

Peace Education Newsletter

January 2012

Dear friends,

It is a little over a week until we celebrate Peace Sunday (15 January) and reflect on the work of young people as peacemakers. We begin with resources to aid your planning.

Peace Sunday

Our new resource offers a collection of reflections and activities to introduce young people to key concepts of peacemaking. Elements of Peace is perfect for use with youth groups and in schools as part of your Peace Sunday celebrations. Order your copy <http://bit.ly/zC0ENd> or see the online version <http://paxchristi.org.uk/elements/>

The text of Pope Benedict's message for World Day of Peace, Educating Young People in Justice and Peace, is here <http://bit.ly/tti5Ah>

And liturgy resources for Peace Sunday can be found on our website http://www.paxchristi.org.uk/peace_sunday1.php

The latest JustPeace, the Pax Christi members' newsletter, has a series of good articles on the Peace Sunday theme <http://bit.ly/smSidg>

Olympics 2012

Lots of things coming up in 2012 using the Olympics as a springboard for encouraging peacemaking. The Peace Museum have launched a new exhibition, Playing for Peace. Details here <http://bit.ly/uNRw7z>

An extensive collection of resources and details of events promoting the peace legacy of the London Olympics is being gathered here <http://www.peacelegacy.org.uk/>

Book Us

Details of what we offer in schools can be found here <http://bit.ly/sIXax3> or contact me at the office.

Ash Wednesday

This year Ash Wednesday falls on 22 February. We will once more be at the Ministry of Defence for the annual service of resistance and repentance. Details to follow in the next newsletter.

You can also follow us on twitter www.twitter.com/PaxChristiYouth

peace
matt

This monthly newsletter is produced by Pax Christi and is available to download at www.paxchristi.org.uk/peace_ed1.php

To subscribe to the email version please contact Matt [education@paxchristi.org.uk]