

Pax Christi in Schools

Supporting and Promoting Peacemaking

Pax Christi's work with young people encourages critical reflection on issues of peace and justice, the role of peacemaking as part of the Christian vocation, together with prayer and action for peace.

Facilitating Reflection

Our workshops invite young people to examine the issues and explore the causes and consequences of conflict in their lives and the lives of others throughout the world. Some of our most popular workshops include:

- Palestine/Israel
- Conflict and Violence
- Christian Peacemaking
- The Armed Forces
- Human Security
- Christian Nonviolence

The specific theme and content of our workshops can be tailored to the needs of the young people in your school. Contact Matt at the Pax Christi office to discuss possibilities or to make a booking.

Enhancing Curriculum

Pax Christi is able to offer support to the existing curriculum in both Religious Education and Citizenship.

Pax Christi is a theme in some GCSE Religious Studies courses and we can facilitate learning in this area

We also offer input as part of General RE provision in sixth form centres.

To be kept up-to-date with new Pax Christi resources and upcoming events please subscribe to our monthly youth work e-newsletter.

- Peace Sunday is celebrated in parishes every January and Pax Christi produce resources to accompany this
- We produce a selection of prayer cards

Supporting Young Leaders

We offer training to young leaders within the school community; whether it is teams of prefects, the school council, young volunteers or sports leaders Pax Christi's training on dealing with conflict could prove invaluable.

Become a School for Peace

As a school you can make a firm commitment for peace by joining Pax Christi. We will support this commitment by sending all Pax Christi mailings and you will get first peek at all new education resources.
